How should I tell or how can ye receive it,
How, till he bringeth you where I have been?*

In Dedication to

*Miss
Viola Cauble*

Forget each kindness that you do
As soon as you have done it,
Forget the praise that falls to you
The moment you have won it,
Forget the slanders that you hear
Before you can repeat it,
Forget each slight, each spite, each sneer
Wherever you may meet it.

Remember every kindness done
To you what e'er its measure,
Remember praise by others won
And pass it on with pleasure,
Remember every promise made
And keep it to the letter,
Remember those who lend you aid,
And be a grateful debtor.

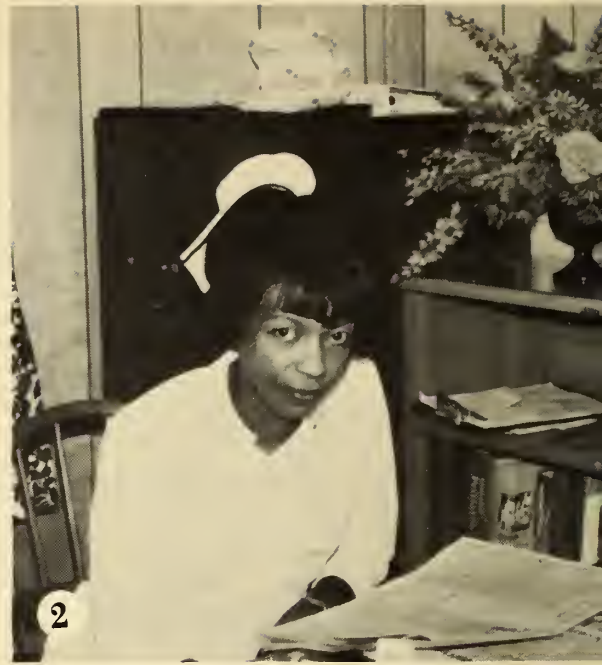

Remember all the happiness
That comes your way in living;
Forget each worry and distress,
Be hopeful and forgiving,
Remember good, remember truth
Remember heaven's above you
And you will find through age and youth
True joys, and hearts to love you.

In Memory of

Elizabeth Carson Winstead, R.N., M.A. Nursing Ed.

May 2, 1913 — July 19, 1974

Member of the Faculty of Mercy School of Nursing from August 1, 1956 until her death on July 19, 1974.

Farewell to an Old Nurse

"They buried Miss Winstead today, you know."
"Poor thing. Is that so?"
"She saw a lot in her years as a nurse."
"No one saw worse."
"Worked near to the end, I understand."
"Wasn't she grand?"
"But alone at the end — no one to tell her goodbye."
"If it isn't too late, why don't you try . . ."

Farewell, Miss Winstead, we bid you adieu,
The doctors, the nurses, the young students too.
You were a legend, a wonder, a trend.
How sad that sweet legends must too reach an end.

You worked in the days when disease was a curse,
When the last lonely cry was a call for the nurse,
When antibiotics had not known their day,
And nurse was the one who "held death at bay."

How many foreheads have known your cool touch?
What was your reward — did it add up to much?

How many death vigils did your calm spirit dare?

How many babies were born in your care?

We laughed when you told us you'd even scrubbed walls,
But deep in our hearts was a feeling of awe,
That the human spirit could so greatly endure,
For the honor of serving the sick and the poor.

No legends are we who now sing your praise,
Just assembly-line nurses who know better days
Than you did, but still it quenches a thirst
To know that we bear the title of "Nurse."

Farewell, Miss Winstead, we bid you adieu,
The doctors, the nurses, the young students too,
And we pray God might make us
A bit more like you.

Giver of life,
Grant me strength that I may work;

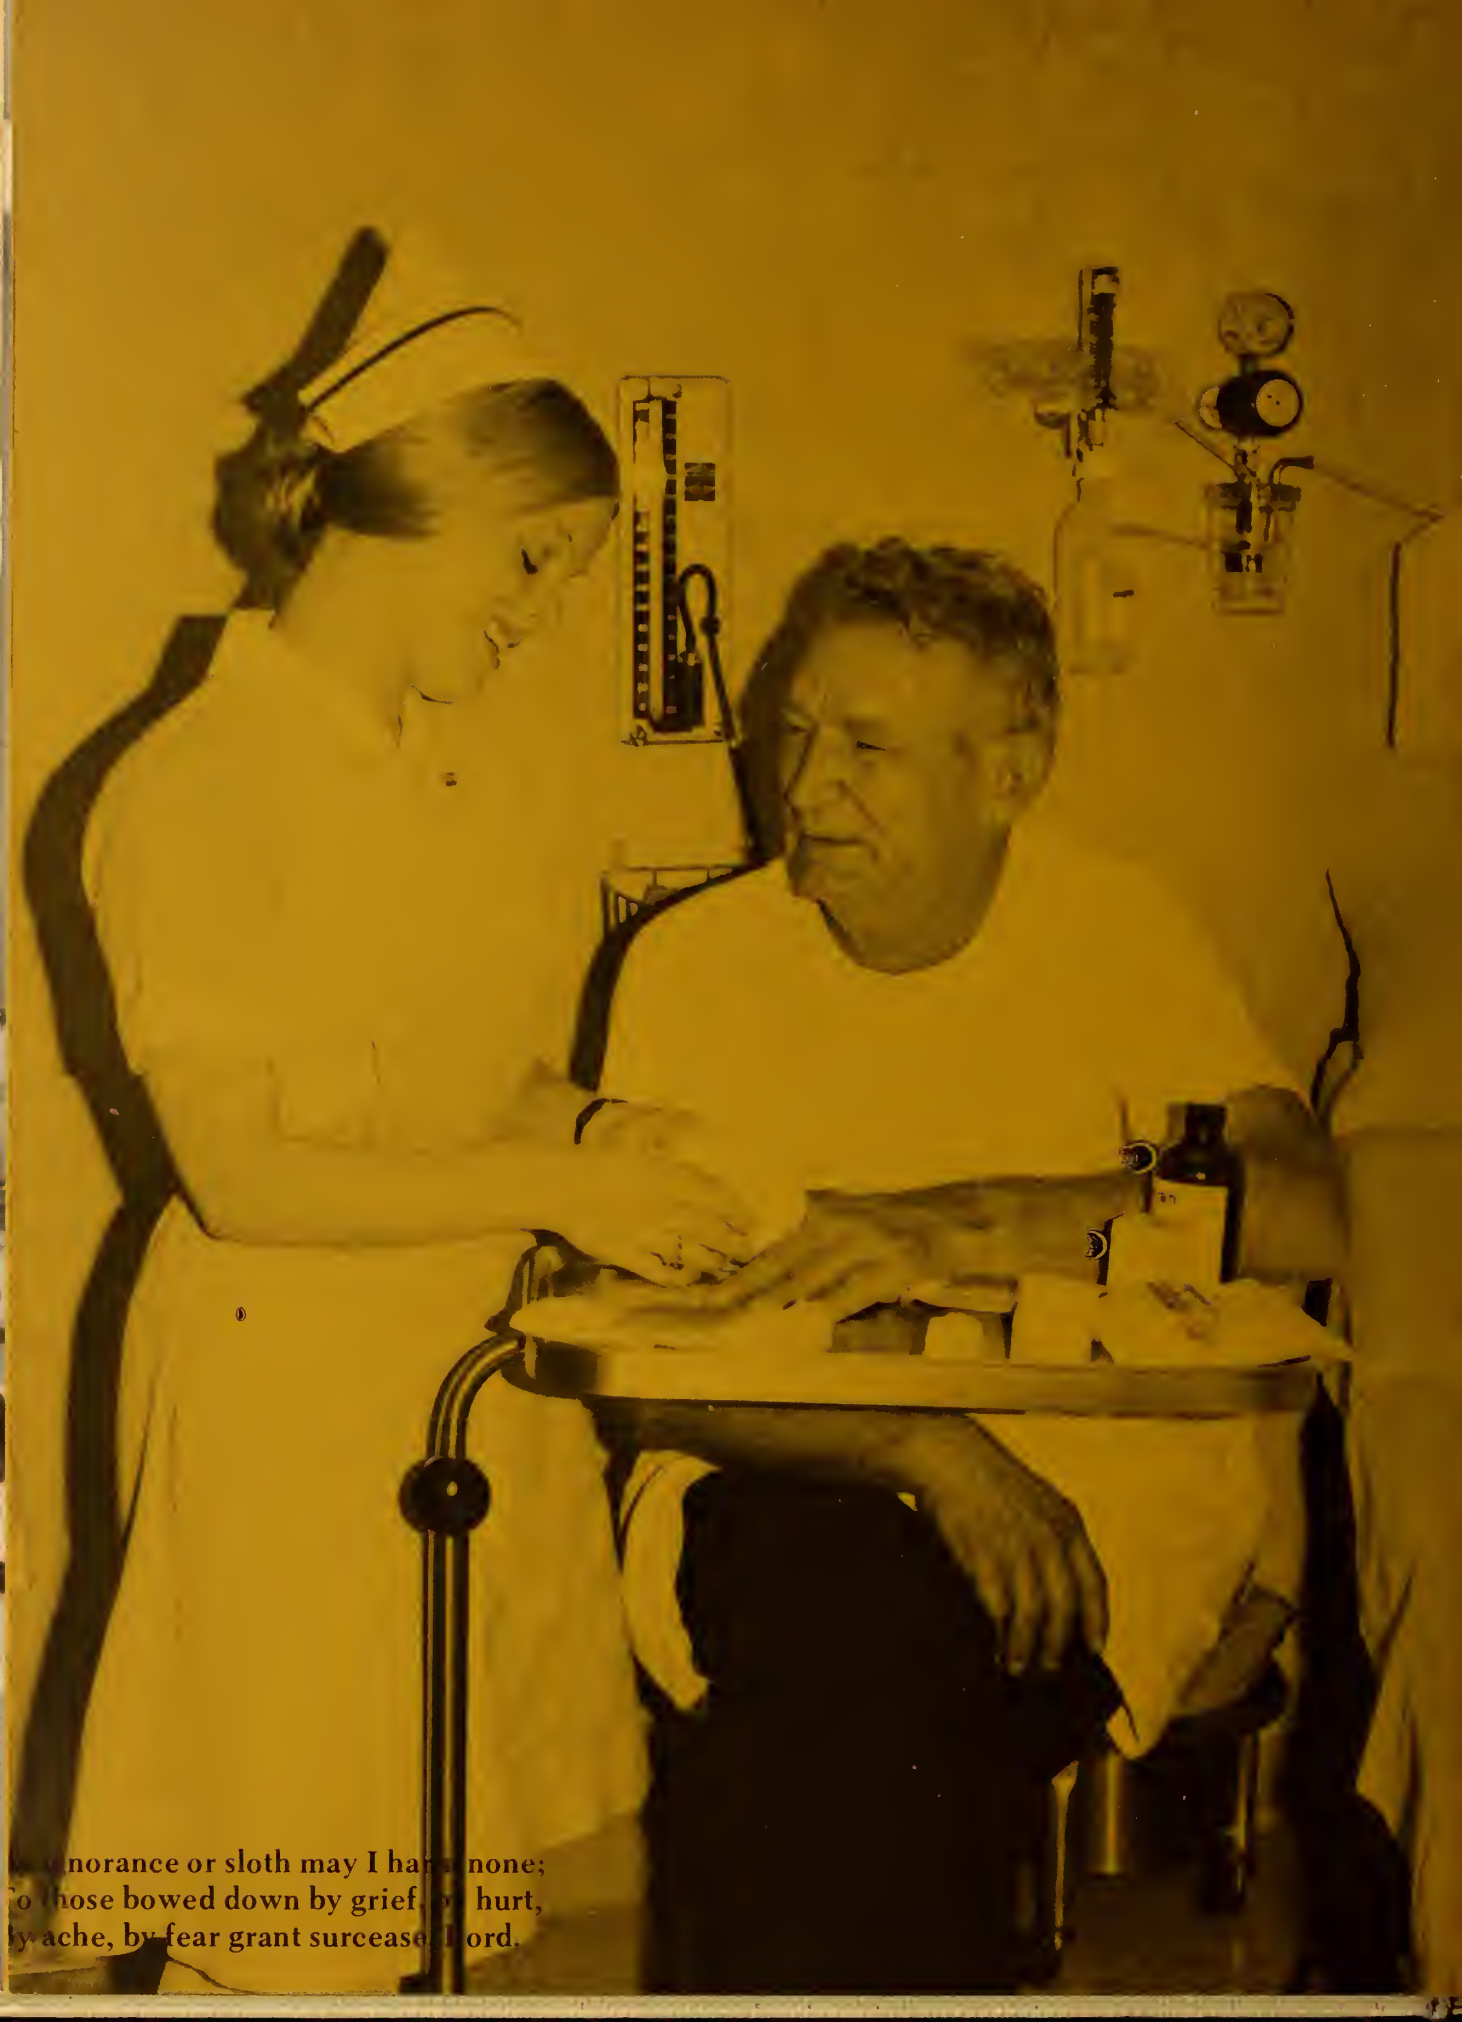

Intelligence to ply my art.
Zeal to guard those lives committed to my care.

Keep clean my lips from harmful speech,
Make keen my eyes the other's good to see,
Gentle my hands, kindly my heard, patient
my soul;

That, by Thy grace, pain may be Sick bodies healed, bent minds straight,
Life's span increased.

For ignorance or sloth may I have none;
For those bowed down by grief or hurt,
By ache, by fear grant surcease, Lord.

And consecrate me to my task
And consecrate me to my task

Senior Song —

You'll Never Walk Alone

When you walk through a storm,
Hold Your head up high
And don't be afraid of the dark,
At the end of the storm is a golden sky
And the sweet silve. song of a lark.
Walk on through the wind,
Walk on through the rain
Tho' your dreams be tossed and blown
Walk on, walk on, with hope in your heart,
And you'll never walk alone,
You'll never walk alone.

IN SPECIAL RECOGNITION:

Ann and Dave

Thank you,
“The Senior Class”

My life shall touch a dozen lives before this day is done,
Leave countless marks for good will ere sets
the evening sun;
So this the wish I always wish, the prayer I ever pray,
Let my life help the other lives it touches by the way.

Strickland Gillilan

Master grant that I may never seek
So much to be consoled as to console.
To be understood as to understand,
To be loved as to love with all my soul.
Make me a channel of your peace.

This is not primarily the place where we have to be,
It is the place where we are.

This is not our prison,
but our home.
It is the road we must walk
And the walking of it is called life.

Because we will walk it only once,
Then how important is it
That we should walk it
With some purpose that We can call our own.

Dear Friend.

We are sea and land
It is not our purpose to become each other, it is to recognize each other
To learn to see the other For what He is each the other's opposite and complement.

No human being
Or Society
Has the Right
To Condemn
Any Kind of Love
I feel or my way of Expressing it
If I am Sincere

Sincerity
Being
The honest realization of Myself.

Something beautiful,

All my confusion, He understood
All I had to offer Him was brokenness and strife.
But He made something beautiful of my life.

It doesn't matter who you love or how you love but that you love.

For in the end the act of loving any man is the act of loving God.

The good in man is all the God there is and loving is a contribution to that good and to that only God.

Love has no other desire but to fulfil itself
But if you love and must needs have desires, let these be your desires;
To melt and be like a running brook that sings its melody to the night.
To know the pain of too much tenderness.
To be wounded by your own understanding of love;
And to bleed willingly and joyfully.

The measure of a life is not by its duration but its donation.

I learned this, at least, by my experiment; that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he was imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours . . .

Henry David Thoreau

It is easier to risk death scaling a mountain than to risk being old and alone, or unloved and unneeded, or being thought stupid or insane.

There are no rules for friendship.
It must be left to itself.
We cannot force it any more than love.

William Hazlitt

Herb Garrison

Keith Munger

Kathie Mullis

I have but one desire in this world
To live my life as a model of love,
To help whenever I can,
To love those who are in need,
To care for my Lord's people, and
To strengthen my faith in accomplishing my task.

K. M.

Anne Tkacik

The love Dave gives to me is flowing, is rare. It does not need stimulation, it stimulates itself. It trusts, understands, grows, explores, it smiles and weeps. It does not exhaust or cling, expect or demand.
It is — and that is enough.

If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.
Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away.

Henry David Thoreau

Truth lies waiting in all things
Unfolding itself from living buds.
But it must first be in yourself.
It shall come from your soul
It shall be love.

Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations.
I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow them.
And should I reach them in the future of my life,
I will rejoice and be glad.

The little things are most worthwhile
A quiet word,
A look, a smile,
A listening ear
That's quick to share
Another's thoughts,
Another's care.
Though sometimes they may seem Quite small.
These little things
Mean most of all.

Margaret Lindsey

Patty Shelley

To see the earth as it truly is, small and blue and beautiful in the eternal silence where it floats,
It is to see riders on the earth together,
Brothers on that bright loveliness in the eternal cold-brothers who know now they are truly brothers,

I get by with a little help from my friends.

Memories

Class of 1975

It was a good time
Its was the last time
It was a party just to be near you

It was a good time
It was the best time and we believed — it would last forever
We would stay together and share the laughter
It was a good time
It was the best time
It seemed a short time but such a good time Since you've gone and won't be mine again . . .
there are many stars that will not shine again except some time in my reverie you'll return and then I'll remember when . . .
It was a good time
It was the best time and we believed that it would last forever.

Yesterdays

A hundred of them filled with the joy and Wonder that a thousand tomorrows may never bring.

Soft murmurs. Warm firelight.

Gentle, musical strings.

That events of yesterday, take
Their fine form between the pages of a book.

Such a little thing to hold the Accomplishments of men.

Such an important thing to hold the key to memories.

a happy beginning,
middle,
and ending.
